

Anita Whitney Is Listed As Communist Organizer

Condon said he wanted him at the convention and when he then proposed to speak he was quickly cut off by Eugene V. Debs, candidate for president on several occasions of the Socialist party, and against the incarceration of political prisoners. The words of the song caused a titter of merriment from the jury panel seats, now occupied by women spectators, chiefly friends of Miss Whitney. Judge Quinn rose precipitately from his chair.

"There is any disturbance in this courtroom," said the judge. "I shall instruct the bailiff to remove whoever is responsible for it."

The reports of the credentials committee and some of the others were on paper when indicated the Communist Labor Party to be the newest member of the Socialist League of the Socialist party. The credentials committee recommended the election of delegates to the state convention apportioned according to the members in each local sending delegates. This committee was headed by Miss Whitney and the report bore her signature.

Condon detailed twice during his examination excerpts from the speech at the convention of Max Bedacht, not also under indictment for criminal syndicalism and assault trial. Bedacht told, in the first place, of attending the Socialist national convention when the old-line Socialists secured the aid of the police to eject the radicals from the hall, whereupon the latter instituted a rank communism and inaugurated the Communist Labor Party. He quoted Bedacht as saying:

"You must not confuse our Communist Labor party with the Communist party, also an offshoot of the Socialists, for they are not so radical as we."

Bedacht's objection to the Socialist party was its illusion of its own strength by working only at the polls. He believed the Communist Labor party could attract more by basing its organization into labor organizations.

He thought action at the polls too slow, and that the present government was "controlled by the capitalist class and not dependable."

In the afternoon they sang a song and gave three cheers for Bolshevikism, said Condon. Then some of the women delegates objected to any more singing, and wanted the convention to get down to business. Condon said that at the afternoon session said that the afternoon session had been draped over a bookcase in the hall when the American flag had previously been visible.

During the noon recess Condon had attended the deliberations at luncheon of the press propaganda committee. The chief thing they did was to recommend the establishment of a daily paper devoted to the interests of labor alone.

Some diversion was created at the mid-morning recess when former Superintendent J. W. McLymonds of the Oakland schools sought to address a question to counsel for both sides, who were standing at counsel

FLU' CASES GROW; DIVORCE SOUGHT TOTAL NOW 436

More than 100 additional cases of influenza have developed since yesterday morning, according to reports from the Health Department this morning, the total number of cases in Oakland now having reached 436.

During the day yesterday 31 new influenza victims were reported to the Health Department, and up to noon today word had been received of 35 more cases. No new deaths have been recorded, the total number of deaths remaining at nine.

According to Dr. John H. M. Melson of the Health Department, the epidemic of pneumonia seems to be on the wane and only one new pneumonia death has been reported during the last few days. The total number of pneumonia deaths since the two epidemics were first reported on January 14 is 21.

Several new cases of help were received by the city department yesterday, according to Melson, and he has been able to supply the need by sending out nurses who registered in response to the appeal sent out by Health Officer Dr. Daniel Crosby for both trained and practical nurses and for kitchen help.

BERKELEY REPORTS MANY NEW CASES

BERKELEY, Jan. 29.—Forty-nine new cases of influenza were reported in the twenty-four hours ending this morning and 29 more up to noon. The total is now 334. Death was reported yesterday. The Berkeley health department totals show that since the beginning of the epidemic this year there have been 305 cases against 294 cases for the first seventeen days last year. The disease is of a lighter character, however, and there have been but eight deaths.

The Berkeley chapter of the American Red Cross, in co-operation with the municipal health department and with the Berkeley district, has completed preliminary arrangements for dealing with the influenza. Feeling that effective measures, in the event of critical developments, will depend on popular co-operation, Red Cross officials are asking for the following assistance by the public:

That all volunteer workers who assisted in the curbing of last year's epidemic, register at once at Red Cross headquarters, at Oxford street and Alston way. This invitation is also extended to others who are willing to help and is not confined to graduates and "practicals."

That all those having automobiles who are willing to aid in transportation problems, in the event of an epidemic, register at Red Cross headquarters.

PNEUMONIA RATE AT CHICAGO VERY HIGH

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—Pneumonia, following in the wake of the influenza epidemic, today reached the highest level since the contagion appeared, more than two weeks ago. Sixty-four hospitals reported 107 new cases of pneumonia and 27 deaths. Influenza continued to subside. During the last 24 hours 1472 new cases were reported and deaths in that period numbered 87.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 29.—There were 902 new cases of influenza reported for the past 24 hours ended at 8 a.m. today, a slight decrease over the previous day. There were 24 deaths from influenza and from pneumonia. Total cases of influenza to date were 6738 and pneumonia 352.

FRESNO, Jan. 29.—Schools of Fresno and outlying districts were closed today as a result of the influenza epidemic.

Hospitals are jammed with patients and visitors are busy transforming the city auditorium into a relief hospital.

The exact number of cases in the city is unknown.

Deaths are occurring daily from the disease.

All public meetings have been postponed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Influenza is generally increasing throughout the country. It was announced today at the United States public health service. Reports to the health service, however, indicate the disease is taking a mild form. In many cases it is so mild that the patients do not call physicians.

That Max Bedacht, one of the delegates to the World, the official organ of the party, explained their stand. He said he should always be a revolutionary advocate, and we will show that Miss Whitney voted for Bedacht and the other five who stood for political and industrial change, not by ballot, but by direct and industrial action.

That the formation of the Communist Labor party was the result of the split between the radical and conservative groups. We will further prove Miss Whitney was one of the delegates when this party was formed and was on at least one of the committees.

During the convention, we shall prove, the American Labor party was covered by a Red banner and a flag. "We'll Make Bolsheviks." Victoria, was raised.

That this meeting endorsed and adopted the Soviet doctrine as contained in the "Third Manifesto."

That our government was to be overthrown and the Soviet form substituted. That the delegates showed our government and its machinery should be overthrown by force.

That they endorsed the seizing of private property and the arming of the labor forces to place the government in hands of the proletariat.

That officers found radical literature, syndicalist books and I. W. W. songs among the effects of Miss Whitney in her home.

The trial of the court to lock up the jury during the progress of the trial, as was done in the famous McHufo trial on a similar charge, was not divulged until the late afternoon. Then there was much scurrying about on the part of messengers for the jury, especially for the women members thereof, all of whom were unprepared for the contingency. Finally, however, their personal needs had been attended to and they were safely ensconced for the night in their Hotel California headquarters. Sworn in to have charge of them were Deputy Sheriffs Al Smith, Dan Crawford and Mrs. Mary Tobin.

ERROR IN INFORMATION CHARGE PROVES FUTILE.

At the close of Harris' address to the jury, Pemberton moved a dismissal of the charge against the defendant on the ground that the events to which she is alleged to have given birth occurred on November 5, whereas, the information specified November 28. This was denied.

There are five counts in the information, in substance as follows:

(1) On or about November 28 Miss Anita Whitney became a member of an organization assembled to advocate, teach, aid and abet criminal syndicalism.

(2) Issued, circulated and displayed pamphlets and documents advocating criminal syndicalism.

(3) By spoken and written words and by personal conduct aided andabetted criminal syndicalism and the duty, necessity and propriety of committing crime, sabotage, violence and terrorism to accomplish political changes and changes in industrial ownership and control.

(4) By spoken and written words justified criminal syndicalism, the commission and attempt to commit crime, sabotage, violence and terrorism, with intent to advocate the doctrine of criminal syndicalism.

(5) By personal acts and conduct advised, advocated, taught andabetted by doctrine and precept criminal syndicalism with intent to accomplish changes in industrial ownership and control.

The statute defines "criminal syndicalism" as a doctrine intending to bring about socialism or industrial changes by sabotage, anarchy, revolution or violence.

Los Angeles, her husband told her his scheme had worked, took the boy and ordered her to take the next train back. Although earning good wages as a machinist, the wife charges, he compelled her to live in ally shacks while he spent his nights away from home and openly boasted of his intimacy with other women.

Save the Babies

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent, or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent, or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations.

Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestion, sickness, death. There can be no danger in the use of Castoria if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

MILLER-LUX LOSE TEST TAX ACTION

Miller & Lux lost their suit against the state of California to recover $10,000 paid annually since 1911 to State Treasurer Friend W. Richardson under a decision handed down by the supreme court yesterday. The action which has been in the courts for more than six years was brought as a test case. Upon the verdict hinges the disposal of more than 1000 similar suits, among which one of the most important is that brought against Henry Ford for non-payment of $28,000 in taxes.

In the action to recover taxes paid under protest the plaintiffs alleged arbitrary assessments of its franchise for the years 1911 to 1916, inclusive, by the board of equalization and contended that being a foreign corporation it possessed no special franchise within the state and therefore could not be taxed. The complaint further contended that the board of equalization refused to make due deduction for "goodwill" and that the assessment placed upon the "corporate excess" was under Act 4053 of the 1911 legislature in violation of state laws.

Attorney Benjamin, representing the state, contended that Act 4053 was in violation of the state constitution and that "goodwill" is an indispensable part of a business franchise.

The supreme court upheld the contention of Benjamin and upon the opinion of the attorney general Act 4053 was found to be unconstitutional and void. The decision was written by Justice Olney and concurred in by Chief Justice Angelotti, Justices Shaw, Lennon, Wilbur and Lawlor.

In the matter of Miller & Lux, assessments were made by the board of equalization upon the "corporate excess," i.e., the difference in the value of outstanding stock and bonds and the earning capacity within the state. The court held that for all practical purposes the plaintiff was in the position of a domestic corporation and that "goodwill" within the state was a part of its franchise.

SAILORS BATTLE
AT SEA OVER BODY

The old superstition that the bodies of those who die on board a ship must be buried at sea or taken to the vessel's home port to prevent the return of hard-living sailing men on board the clipper ship James Polk Jr. The story came out with the filing of the will of Captain Charles D. Olsen, who died on a return trip from Liverpool and whose widow has received the $20,000 estate.

With him on his last voyage was the wife, Mrs. Kathleen Olsen, 800 Miramar Avenue, San Francisco, an eight-year-old daughter, and the ship's steward. After his death a part of the crew insisted on burial at sea while the others held that the widow's wishes should be respected. A fight in which many were bruised and in which knives and clubs were used was the result. When the ship reached Panama, where the body was to be taken ashore for cremation, the argument waxed again. Led by a gigantic sailor named Larson, one faction contended that it was bad enough to bring the body ashore, but to remove the body to the port, but the home one was openly courting disaster. Larson stood guard over the coffin with a great knife and was prepared to fight for his point.

Through a ruse the body was removed and hard luck followed for Larson in the persons of about half of the crew, who jumped upon him and so badly injured him that he was put in a hospital at Panama. The ship arrived here without any other mishap.

Chinese Markets Are Menace, Say Butchers

Competition of Chinese meat markets is "a menace to American trade and prevents butcher workmen from earning a living," according to resolution adopted yesterday night at a meeting of the Alameda County Retail Butchers' Association. The resolution says that the association "was most earnestly apalled to the loyalty and good judgment of all citizens to help maintain American standards of living by patronizing only those places of business that are conducted on American principles and which are vitally interested in the welfare of the community."

Better Pay Outside Threatens University Faculty Depletion

Professor Cross is instructing 1400 students in elementary economics and 300 in a foreign exchange class, as compared to a usual attendance of from forty to sixty in the latter class, while the campus is proceeding with its courses under a crippled faculty as a result of the many calls received by instructors is declared to be another aftermath of the university's failure to raise salaries. Salaries paid by the University of California, once among the highest in the country, are declared to have been below the other institutions in the United States for the past ten years.

LOYALTY HOLDS MANY INSTRUCTORS IN BERKELEY.

According to Dr. Barrows, offers involving higher salaries are constantly reaching the campus, and the loyalty of the faculty members to the state institution keeping them here, he says. Offers received this week are declared to be unusually attractive, however.

Under the present salary scale, the BERLIN, Jan. 29.—(By Associated Press)—Indications of the government's growing concern over the tradition of Germans accused of war offenses was given in the note sent to the allies today, asking revision of clauses of the Versailles treaty. The attempted assassination of Matthias Erzberger, minister of finance, last Monday, is viewed in official circles as a precursor of what is likely to happen on a larger scale if the government, yielding to the allies' appeals to force in arresting men on the list submitted by the entente powers.

Editorial and partisan reprimands provoked by the attack on the finance minister have already reached a high level. The heads of the allies, which will not be published in Germany, warn the entente powers that Germany cannot assume she is able to compel either national or local agencies of the law to lay hands on the men wanted and transfer them to German frontiers.

The Associated Press is informed that even responsible officers of the foreign office have announced point blank they will refuse to execute any work connected with extradition or anything that injure the name of Germany. For superior to so-called "restorers" and harmful eyes.

SUFFERED FOR TWENTY YEARS

Andrade Quickly Restored to Health by Tanlac and Feels Fine Now.

"Certainly I can recommend Tanlac and am glad to do so, for after what Tanlac has done for me if I refused to say a good word for it I would be one of the most ungrateful men in the world," said John T. Wade, 1215 Pacific Avenue, Alameda, Cal., an employee of the Union Iron Works, recently.

"After I tell you what a bad condition I was in and how Tanlac straightened me up again," Mr. Andrade continued: "I believe you will agree with me that I should not only be glad to tell about it, but that it would be nice to do so, as it means the means of helping others who are so unfortunate as to be suffering as I was. Why, for the past twenty years I have suffered with about as bad a case of stomach trouble as I ever had, still taking tonics, salts, etc., and although I tried many treatments and medicines, nothing I did seemed to do me a particle of good until I started taking Tanlac. I had no appetite, and when I did manage to eat a little, I was unable to eat it. I was in misery for hours afterward. Gas would form on my stomach, and I had intense pains in my side, and chest and in the region of my heart. I could hardly breath, and at times just had to fight to get my breath. My nerves were in such bad shape I could get but little sleep, at the least little noise would wake me up all night long, unable to get a wick of sleep.

At the least little sound out of the ordinary or the slamming of a door I still would jump up, as if I had been shot. Tanlac soon put me on the road to recovery. I felt tired and dreamy all the time, and often I just had to give up and go to bed.

Someone suggested that I try Tanlac, so I got a bottle and began taking it, and I am happy to say that I have excellent appetite now, and now I can eat anything I want without being bothered with gas or those pains in my side and chest. I am never troubled about getting my breath again, and am in such good condition now that I can sleep all night long without ever waking up. In fact, I feel as good as I ever did in my life, and I hope what I have said about Tanlac will be the means of helping others in the same condition as I was. For I know if they will only take it their troubles will be over. It has made me feel just like a new man."

Tanlac is sold in San Francisco and Oakland by The Owl Drug Company.

Plays and Players

FULTON WILL OFFER

MACK'S NEW PLAY

One of Willard Mack's most recent and most successful, "The Big Chance," is to be the virile drama of unusual power and compelling interest, to be the attraction at the Fulton Theater next week. This play, offering the title of "Mack's Little," the delightful comedy-drama in which Paul Harvey does a noteworthy woman-taming stunt with Nana Bryant as the tamer, providing "The Big Chance" ran in New York for a year and a half and then toured the country with success. It never has been seen in the west. Nana Bryant is in the feminine lead and Paul Harvey the male.

The Lakeside Canoe Club is holding a theater party in the Fulton tonight. "The Big Chance" will be the attraction.

GRIFFITH SPECTACLE

BILLED AT KINEMA

"Everywoman," the vivid spectacular drama of woman's quest for love, will close its two weeks run at the Kinema this weekend. It follows "Sunday Girl," Griffith's spectacle, "The Fall of Babylon," and Alla Moskova with her royal Russian.

"Everywoman" unfolds an interesting, compelling plot leading through shrill climaxes to a happy finale, and is more inspiring because it is the true story of life itself.

"Violent Pleasure" in the "Everywoman" is supported by a remarkable cast, including Theodore Roberts, Wanda Hawley, James Neil, Gloria Holden, Monte Blue, Irving Cummings and a number of other well-known stars.

YANKEEVILLE FILMS

ENTERTAIN ART & SCIENCE

Comedy, an aggregation of the cleverest juvenile performers ever seen on an Oakland stage, Norma Talmadge and the incidental features of the day, including the excellence of programs that is the specialty of T. and D. theater this week.

Norma Talmadge tops the bill in "A Daunting of Two Worlds."

"The Kid's Folies '29" offers more than twenty phenomenal-trained youngsters. The act occupies a full thirty minutes of jazz, song, and comedy, by probably the cleverest company of young stars ever brought together on a stage. Blanchette, Frazee, and the rest of the troupe.

LEAP YEAR GIRLS

STUDY IN COLOMBIA

"The Leap Year Girls," a musical comedy the plot of which is based on the endeavors of "old maids" to secure husbands during the leap year, is providing entertainment for thousands of music迷s at the Egyptian and Olympia Theater this week, where it is being presented for the first time with Eddie Gilbert and Sally Carter in the lead. The Egyptian is featuring Lillian Mason, playing the comedienne, Bertie Wentworth, Dick Lee, Gwendolyn Evans and several others in the contributing parts. As usual, one of the best features of the show is the musical program. The attraction continues for the rest of the week and will be followed by "Madame Chrysanthème" on Saturday afternoon, the intermission big event of the week will take place tomorrow Friday evening, when the chorus girls hold their weekly contest for vaudville honors.

MEXICANS GIVING BENEFIT DANCES

To raise funds to aid the thousands of Mexicans rendered destitute by the recent earthquakes, the Ignacio Allende, the local Mexican society, will give two dances in the Pacific building, at Sixteenth and Jefferson streets, one on the evening of February 1, and the second on February 8.

Contributions to a fund being collected by the society for the aid of the destitute Mexicans are being received by a committee composed of Roberto J. Viles, E. M. Pina and R. Gómez. Over $100 in small amounts have already been subscribed by members of the local Mexican colony and others who are desirous of aiding this work.

Funds for the earthquake victims are being raised by Mexican societies all over the country and donations of money from Central and South American governments are also being made for the relief work. The government of San Salvador alone has appropriated $100,000 for the aid of the affected Mexicans.

Circulars in Spanish and addressed to the Mexican population of the bay cities are being circulated by the members of the Ignacio Allende announcing the two dances for February 1 and 8.

Meat Dealers Oppose Using Word Butcher

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29.—The Southern California Retail Butchers' Association decided to designate itself in future the Retail Meat Dealers' Association of Southern California.

The change is made, it was explained, as the first step in a campaign to divorce the word "butcher" from the business. Butchers, the dealers said, are slaughterers only, and as few retailers nowadays do killing the word is a misnomer.

How to Keep Age-Lines and Wrinkles Away

Don't forget that the woman who smiles will have a skin more free from wrinkles than the woman who frowns. Take a warm bath to the face once a day for while in a harmless solution made by dissolving a small piece of paraffin in a small amount of water.

This is remarkably effective in erasing the hateful lines, not only because of its astringent action which tightens the skin, but also because of a healing tonic effect which improves capillary circulation and nerve tone. There is nothing better for flabby cheeks or chin. Be sure to ask the chemist for the powdered paraffin.

H.C.L. FIGHT LAUNCHED ON ONION PRICE

Reports of federal investigations of potato profiteering and definite action against what is charged to be speculation in onions, mark today's fight of the officials and housewives against the high cost of living.

The action at Washington directing an inquiry into the potato situation is being welcomed by the wholesale dealers around the bay. They say that an investigation will show the public that the prices are not a result of high cost of growing of the supply but are the result of "supply and demand." It is pointed out that the potatoes in the market now must last until July and that there are many bidders for them. Prices, wholesalers say, will go still higher.

Authority to seize 270,000 pounds of buckskin bronze onions that, according to her petition, have been hoarded at the National Ice and Storage Company for speculative purposes, has been asked by United States Attorney Annette A. Adams. Government investigators are said to have found 26,000 sacks of onions which had been placed in the warehouse last September by the Associated Fruit Company for J. Grossman. Grossman assigned them to Weis & Welsh of Chicago, and they, according to the government, to Wm. H. Ellis & Co. Mrs. Adams charges that they have been subject to speculation and are in excess in quantity to the reasonable requirements of Ellis & Co.

COUPE AND TRUCK CRASH; ONE HURT

In a collision last night between an electric coupe driven by Mrs. R. M. Fitzgerald and a small truck driven by Roy Zipperin, 732 Fourteenth street, both cars were badly damaged and Zipperin received serious injuries. The accident happened at the intersection of Grand and Bellevue avenues.

Zipperin maintains that Mrs. Fitzgerald endeavored to cut the corner and turned him from Grand into Bellevue avenue. Zipperin was thrown from his car and suffered lacerations about the head. He was rushed to the Emergency hospital in another without injury.

Several other accidents occurred last night in Oakland. Thomas Dury, 915 Market street, sustained a broken right leg when he was struck by the fender of a machine driven by H. W. Gibbs Jr., 2400 Broadway. The mishap took place on Eighth street between Brush and the Emergency hospital.

Manuel Hernandez, Hayward, fell from an East Fourteenth street car last night and struck the pavement. He sustained bruises and lacerations and an injured ear.

Bright Harbird, a telegrapher of Brighton, was hit by a Southern Pacific train last night at the sixteenth street depot. His arm was broken. He was taken to the Emergency hospital.

In a collision between a car driven by Joe Thompson, 145 Fernside avenue, Alameda, and a Hayward street car, Thompson's machine was practically demolished and Thompson himself sustained slight injuries.

Details Arranged for Legion Costume Ball

Further details of the big costume ball and pageant to be given in the Municipal Auditorium on the night of Lincoln's Birthday by Oakland Post No. 35, of the American Legion, will be announced tomorrow night at a meeting of the committee arrangements in Y. M. C. Hall, 252 Twelfth street. The meeting has been called for 7:45 o'clock by Major William D. Barbee, chairman of the committee.

Tickets for the ball, which will be the first big function of its kind for the season, have been placed on sale in the Liberty Hut at the corner of Fourteenth street and San Pablo avenue, headquarters of the membership drive of the Women's Auxiliary of the Post, which is assisting in preparations for the pageant. They will be placed on sale later at other central points in the city.

Arrangements already decided upon for the ball include several specialty numbers, including a feature dancing spectacle, and the distribution of more than $400 in gold cash prizes. The ball will be started at 8:30 o'clock and the final curtain will not be rung down until 1 o'clock. The ban has been placed on dress suits, but otherwise any sort of costume will be permitted.

Ex-Service Men Get Free Night School

Oakland is to have a free "Casey" school for demobilized service men. Albert G. Bagley, director of western department, was recently knighted by Columbus and announced to-day that the Knights had determined to extend their chain of free night schools, now embracing most of the principal cities on the coast, to this city, as soon as suitable facilities can be procured. Registration of discharged soldiers, sailors and marines probably will be started next week. The organization work will be in charge of J. V. Owens, overseas secretary for the Knights, who took a prominent part in the organization of the San Francisco school, the enrollment of which has passed the 1,600 mark.

"Casey" will offer more than a score of vocational, business and cultural courses for the ex-service men. Classes in automobile mechanics, radio work, stenography and typewriting, foreign trade, French, Spanish, English, arithmetic, algebra and other subjects will be formed. Textbooks and all supplies will be free to the service men.

Ceremony is Planned for League by France

PARS, Jan. 29.—(French Wireless Service)—President Poincaré will preside at a solemn ceremony to be held at the Sorbonne, Jan. 30, to celebrate the establishment of the League of Nations. School teachers throughout the country will read to their classes the declarations made at the Sorbonne.

PEACE OF MIND COSTS BARRED BY JUDGMENT

When a woman is guaranteed all of her expenses in defending a suit, by a fellow defendant, she may not include in the charges numerous journeys made from a country point to her lawyer's office in Oakland in order to "promote her peace of mind," according to Judge Harry W. Pufcik, today in giving judgment of $43.75 to E. V. Lacey from Mrs. Mrs. Sandusky.

The suit was the outgrowth of the sale of a ranch at Livermore by Lacey to Mrs. Sandusky. After the sale was projected both persons were sued on a deed of trust which had been filed against the property. Mrs. Sandusky, when told of the purchase, said Lacey told her if she would not do so he would pay all of her expenses incident to defending the suit. The action was decided in favor of the defendants and Lacey paid the attorney fees, but when he asked Mrs. Sandusky to repay $90 he had expended on taxes she presented a bill for $217, which included the expense of moving from one apartment to another, the cost of food and take over the ranch, twenty miles from Livermore to Oakland to consult her attorney to preserve her peace of mind, at $5 a trip, which she made in an automobile, meals in Oakland and other incidentals.

Judge Pufcik said her peace of mind might have been preserved by letter or telephone and allowed her two trips, one for preparation of the case and the other for the actual trial, besides incidentals making a total of $18.75, which with other money she had paid brought down Lacey's claim to $43.75.

Estranged From Wife; Attempts to End Life

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—Failure to affect a reconciliation with his wife from whom he had been separated several months prompted Aaron Schernowf, a guest at the Palace hotel, to attempt to commit suicide late last night by drinking poison and slashing his left wrist with a knife. According to the police Schernowf, who presents an eastern electrical concern, called upon his wife at the home of his sister, Mrs. T. Stevens, 1850 Larkin street, and endeavored to induce Mrs. Schernowf to return to him. When she refused, Schernowf left her and a few minutes later drank the contents of a bottle of poison. At the central emergency hospital it was said he would recover.

"Gets-It" FIRM TRIES NEW GOVERNING PLAN

or

Corns,

Which?

Few Drops at Night GIRL QUALIFIES;
Spells "Good-Night" For Any Corn

It's farewell to any corn that "Gets-It" lands on. If you have a "pet" corn that you want to keep, don't let "Gets-It" come near it or you'll surely lose that pet. A few drops takes all the pep out of any corn, makes it let go so it lifts right off without your feeling it.

MAHINES TO BE IN VAUDEVILLE

With concerts, boxing and vaudeville, the "Roving Marines" will entertain Oakland during the first four days of February. The men are touring the country under the direction of headquarters at Washington, and their object is to stimulate recruiting in their branch of the service.

Among them are many decorated heroes of the famous Fifth and Sixth marines, also others from the Asiatic stations and the tropical posts where marines do duty. Many of these men who were enlisted for the duration of the war have been discharged and re-enlisted after a few weeks back in civil life.

Private Nagel, a thespian previous to the war, is with the party doing blackface comedy. This young man was cited for bravery with the rest of his battalion at Soissons and awarded the much cherished croix de guerre for personal gallantry on St. Michel sector. The famous Marine band of thirty-four pieces from Mare Island, under the leadership of First Sergeant Cunningham, is also included in the party, among which are several of the boys who helped entertain the A. E. F. in France and along the shores of the Rhine.

Gunner Sergeant McFarland, boxer and member of the famous Second Division "over there," is in charge of this branch of entertainment. He has gathered together quite a battery of talent, including Private J. Gonzales, welterweight; Corporal E. S. Snyder and Private Hazer, middleweights, and Privates Mirnicki and Berry, lightweights.

Also with this party are eight comedians, each doing a specialty in different marine posts here and in foreign countries. The program includes:

Private Chifford, formerly stationed at Peking, China, in a Hebrew immersion.

Privates Nale and Davis, overseas veterans, in "NonSense NonSense."

The Marine Comedy Four in "Fifteen Minutes of Harmony." Sergeant Brown, basso, Corporal Pearson, tenor, and Privates Angus and Wolfe, tenors. They are all from Mare Island.

Trumpeter Sergeant Manco, Arndt and Warner in "Boogie Harmony." Sergeant Manco is recognized as America's best laugh.

The Saxophone Quintet musical marines. Private Vaughn assisted by Privates Moore and Bailey. In "Bumby Bumps" a comedy team.

Corporal Johnson and Private Carey in a comedy playlet, "Love or Death." Private Carey was a member of the Eighteenth company Fifth Marines, having seen nineteen months' active service "over there."

Corporal H. E. Davis, the Billy Goat of the marines.

HERE IS PROGRAM

The program as approved by the managing director of the western division for Oakland, will be as follows:

Sunday, February 1—Grand concert at Lake Merritt at 2 p. m. Vaudeville and feature dance at Neptune beach at 8 p. m.

Monday, February 2—Vaudeville at Auditorium at 8:15 p. m.

Wednesday, February 4—Vaudeville at Knights of Columbus Hall at 8:15 p. m.

All the above and numerous other entertainments will be free.

Moose to Offer Variety Program on Ladies' Night

The first application of the principle of a board chairmanship, to share responsibility with the president, to a retail business is that of Sherman, Clay & Co. L. S. Sherman, for many years president of the firm, has been chosen the chairman of the board, with the other officers as follows:

Philip T. Clay, president; Frederick L. Sherman, vice-president; Ferdinand W. Stephenson, secretary; and A. C. McCarthy, treasurer. Mrs. G. C. and Harriet L. Crawford complete the board. Sherman, Clay & Co. operate ten retail stores on the coast—Oakland, San Francisco, Sacramento, Stockton, Fresno, Portland, San Jose, Seattle, Tacoma and Spokane. They recently bought a seven-story building at Stockton and Post streets in San Francisco for $325,000 and will probably use it for retail quarters at the expiration of their present lease at Kearny and Sutter streets.

MISS FLORIE MAY TYRRELL, who will take part in Moose Lodge entertainment.

"The Gaieties of 1920," An Original Skit, Will Be Chief Attraction.

With tears filling her eyes, 11-year-old Desire Quayrel took the stand before Superior Judge T. W. Harris today and told of hearing her father call her mother improper names and fire a shot from a revolver in connection with the divorce action. Clara May Quayrel, actress Ferdinand A. Quayrel's daughter, asked the mother's attorney, "Do you go to Sunday-school desire?" asked the mother's attorney.

"Yes, sir."

"What does your Sunday-school teacher tell you about people who do not tell the truth?"

"They are sinners and don't get saved."

"But you don't know the difference between those who are saved and those who are not, do you?" asked the father's attorney.

"No, sir."

"She is not capable of testifying, your honor."

"Where did she say the people who tell the truth go?" pursued the opposing attorney.

"They go to heaven," answered the witness, "and those who don't, go to hell."

"That she made the declaration she would destroy the deed if she lived to do it."

"I think she is qualified to testify," said Judge Harris.

Miss Quayrel was granted a decree, the custody of the child and $65 a month alimony.

Deed to Property Attacked in Court

The daughter-in-law and the foster daughter of Mrs. Abbie A. Bacon, who died on April 1, are today engaged in a legal battle before Judge A. F. St. Sure for possession of a piece of property held by the foster daughter by Mrs. Bacon four days before her death.

HOW IRRECONCILABLES FIGHT.

It develops that the bipartisan conference of United States senators who have been striving to reach an acceptable compromise on the question of reservations to the ratification of the peace treaty had made commendable progress before their work was briefly interrupted by the "irreconcilables." They had even reached a tentative agreement upon the difficult subject of Article X. But the little group of "last ditchers" intruded and caused a slight disturbance. It is to be hoped the interruption is only temporary, however. There are only about eight of the unyielding anti-treaty, anti-peace senators, and the ninety others ought not let themselves be long prevented from taking such action as the majority of the chamber deem to be in the best interest of the country.

It is plain that the three or four Republican enemies of the peace treaty are trying to exploit the fact that the party majority in the Senate is only two as a club to browbeat the remainder of the Republican members into doing their bidding. They threaten to bolt the Senate party organization and make it impossible for the majority party to carry out any other legislative projects if a compromise is reached on the peace treaty. These threats are not entirely unexpected and are not at all inconsistent with the party conscience of those that make them.

But if the majority must be weakened by such a betrayal as the carrying out of the threat would constitute, let it be so rather than that the whole country should continue to suffer from the failure of the Senate to do its plain duty. The Senate is under the obligation to protect America, not to promote presidential candidacies. The peace treaty should not be disposed of according to the wish of those who would like to use it in promotion of their candidacies.

The efforts at compromise should be continued to a speedy and successful end. The best judgment of the Senate is that the treaty should be ratified with proper reservations. That judgment should prevail. If it yields to the "holdup" and "blackmailing" tactics of the self-seeking enemies of the treaty there will be another great American scandal. Those responsible for it will probably find themselves beyond the power of threats to do them harm.

TRANSFORMATION.

Seventy years ago an ox-team caravan came over the hills from the sagebrush land of Washoe County, Nevada, into a valley on the California border east of the Warner Mountains and found wild timber growing so high it could be tied across the top of a horse's back. Springs of ice cold water gushed out from the mountain canyons in front of them. They camped, fed their stock and decided that the place should be called Surprise Valley.

After a few days' rest, a large section of the immigrant train started over the mountains toward the Pitt River, slightly above what is now the site of Alturas. They stopped for the night just over the divide, witnessed a marriage cere money between a young couple, and started to dance in celebration. While they danced a party of Modoc Indians came upon them and murdered all of the happy cavalcade, almost at the end of their journey. Ever since the pass has been called the Fandango Trail.

Those that remained in Surprise Valley a day or so longer got through safely. Among them was William T. Cressler, a young man of New England, with a fair education. He went on into Siskiyou County and there taught school for a few years. Then he returned to Surprise Valley, about the time General John Bidwell went up to chase the Modoc Indians into the lava beds and otherwise "pacify" them and to establish and garrison Fort Bidwell.

Cressler decided to remain in Surprise Valley. He started a small general merchandise store at the foot of the Alturas Pass, almost in the center of the present town of Cedarville. He sold all the commodities available in those early days, but the most popular and profitable among the hardy folks on the then Indian frontier was corn whisky. It was in those days he started the nucleus of a large fortune, for he began to acquire titles to land. The small wooden shack in which he commenced business still stands on the small plot of land he has donated to the town of Cedarville as a public park. Its preservation was one of the conditions of the gift.

Mr. Cressler died last week at the age of ninety years. His land holdings were estimated to be worth close to a million dollars. He owned stock ranches in California, Oregon and Nevada—several hundred thousand acres in all. In the latter part of his life he became an energetic opponent of the liquor traffic, one of the valued supporters of the campaign of prohibition. He died a few days after constitutional prohibition became effective.

This is only an ordinary story of an individual—not an ordinary man by many tests, but still not extraordinary by many. Yet his story is much of the epic of California. His early experiences, his trials, his commercial ventures, his rewards, his change of views and moral and business code coincide fairly closely with the development of the "public" conscience of the composite Californian.

JAPAN'S MILITARY PLANS.

Both the new financial strength of Japan and the program of naval and military development disclosed by the figures of the 1920-21 budget presented recently to the imperial Diet for approval will naturally attract world-wide attention. They are matters which are of peculiar interest to the United States and their reflection may be found in some of the policies which this country later will be called upon to adopt.

Japan has acquired much new wealth since she entered the war. She took up her self-assumed war tasks in 1914 with a gold specie supply of only $175,000,000. She finished these tasks with more than $1,000,000,000 gold specie. This is net accumulation of balances on war loans payments, charges for material furnished her allies, etc., and does not include the many millions of profits made on shipping and the returns from foreign investments and banking agencies in foreign countries. Of the tremendously increased gold reserve $440,000,000 is owned by the Bank of Japan and the remainder by the government, about $600,000 being held in banks in the United States and England.

When Japan entered the war her national debt was $1,250,000,000. Today it is only $100,000,000 more—a very small increase indeed, compared to the gigantic increases that have been forced upon the other belligerents. The increase was in domestic loans floated and is several times offset by the loans the Japanese government has made or sponsored to other governments.

It is not surprising, considering such favorable financial conditions and strong resources, that Japan contemplates annual expenditures in the next fiscal year of $640,000,000. Nor that she should be able to raise most of the money from ordinary sources of revenue and to be able to carry forward from the first post-war fiscal year a balance of $50,000,000. These are not large figures compared to American appropriations for building ships or highways or making up the deficit of government operation of the railroads, but they are unusual when compared to former annual budgets of the Japanese government. The new budget is about twice as large as the pre-war expenditures. And it is to be remembered that the dollar goes from three to four times as far in Japan as it does in America, especially in the performance of government tasks.

The significant increases are for the army and navy. The military establishment will cost $100,000,000 more than in 1919. The navy will receive $65,000,000 more than last year. The army is to spend large sums on fortifications, new arms, both small and large, and for ammunition. An airplane corps is to be developed. The naval increase is in part made up of the annual quota of $275,000,000 for the construction of new warships, to be spread over several years. These ships are to include four battleships, four battlecruisers, twelve cruisers, thirty-seven destroyers, five gunboats, eighteen special service ships and mine sweepers and several submarines.

These increases in naval and military preparations are the more noteworthy because they are additions to other programs authorized and inaugurated at different dates in the past few years and still uncompleted. In presenting the budget the finance minister said that nothing can be more important than the strengthening of the national defenses in order that peace may be preserved and the machinery of communications be developed. This is something more than an argument for adoption of the budget: it is the sentiment of Japan reflected in the utterances of her statesmen and in the Japanese vernacular press.

What is the new menace against which the national defense must be strengthened and the communications developed? Is it China, Russia or the United States? Or the subject people of Korea? It must be one of the four. The United States may be dismissed from consideration as a designing enemy or a power against which it is necessary to maintain costly defenses. Japan is well aware of this. It must be, then, that Japan observes or expects enmity nearer at home.

It is possible that she realizes that the policies she has pursued toward China and Korea entail the expensive consequence of large military and naval preparations? If so, she also ought to be keen enough to realize that the most effective and economical procedure would be to alter her policies and make herself a desirable and respected neighbor in the Far East. A nation that is hated and feared must always be heavily armed.

In holding out her arms to the passengers of the Buford Russia is not acting in a new role. A country that has embraced Lenin and Trotsky, Bolshevism, anarchism and terror, gets so it is not one bit particular.

NOTES and COMMENT

What long ago was pointed out as a way to reduce the price of milk—the consolidation of routes so as to avoid duplicate service—is now being tried in Alameda. The good old fashion of half a dozen milkmen supplying customers in the same block is thus broken up, and there must be a resultant saving in expense.

The death of a noted promoter recalls the era of expansion of the industries and utilities—and also the fact that some of the expansions of that time are now going through or have gone through processes of contraction.

Finally we shall have to score one for the Turk. He has declined Bolshevism because it is contrary to his religion, his finer feelings. There are those who would resent comparison with the Turk, yet who do not get on as high ground as that.

An Eastern sales manager declares that the public is in error as to the price of clothing. In behalf of a considerable contingent that finds it necessary at somewhat lengthy intervals to give the subject a practical test, it is hoped that it is permissible to challenge this assertion. Though it may not make any difference, the price tag will still remain, and we may take it or leave it.

The job of night watchman is no longer absolutely safe. The incumbent at Byron Springs managed to elude the bandits who leisurely went through the bank that he was hired to watch, but he was lucky. Watchmen cannot expect always to get off as triumphantly as that.

From this distance it is not possible to visualize a fight between a turner and a game rooster as an interesting combat; yet it says in the news account that more than a hundred from the exclusive districts of Hillsborough and Burlingame assembled to witness it.

The first airplane funeral has taken place. If they become popular, the departed in some instances may get nearer celestial regions in the final ceremony than they were able to be in happier days. However, it is to be said that the idea of an airplane funeral is as pleasant as an idea based on such a subject can be. There is nothing repulsive in being carried through the air to the last resting place.

President Wilbur of Stanford shows heat in the defense of Herbert Hoover. He brands certain statements concerning Hoover as "a campaign of lies," an insult to the intelligence of the American people.

The decision that industry must pay fare is one of the results of government control. When the railroads were under private control they were furnished passes over the State to points where there was apathy to chew. In this inelastic application of the rules we see how worthy bugs are made to suffer.

Why do we build boxes, call the big ones skyscrapers and the little ones houses and shut ourselves up in them the year round. Does anybody know? This queries one ardent disciple of out-of-doors. Why indeed? Does anybody know? There are many necessary processes of modern life that can more conveniently be carried on with modern facilities, and these are found only in houses. But is that any reason for mailing ourselves into these confining boxes so closely?—Salinas Index.

THE DUTCH BLOCKADE.

THE NEW PALESTINE

Palestine soon may take its place among industrial nations, and ancient Jerusalem may become a bustling mart of modern trade, if projects in contemplation are realized.

One such project is that of building a tunnel from the Dead sea to the Mediterranean, passing under Jerusalem, which would utilize the variation in levels to provide water power for stations along the way.

A second suggestion is to build a new industrial zone about Jerusalem, while the ancient city is preserved intact.

In this connection the National Geographic Society has issued, from its Washington headquarters, the following bulletin, based on a communication to the society by John P. Whitney:

"Few realize that the manners and customs which prevailed in the Holy Land in Biblical days are still unchanged, even after an interval of 3,000 years."

"The present day villages are located, as a rule, either on the tops of hills, originally for protection, or near some spring or source of water. Many are built upon the foundations of dwellings whose origin dates back thousands of years. There does not exist a single example of a peasant village that has been founded in modern times.

"Many have pictured Mary and Joseph, after arriving at the inn at Bethlehem, finding no room, being forced to turn into some barn built of timber, with lofty roof, haymows, wooden mangers, and stalls for cattle and sheep. Such a stable was the subject of many medieval and modern artists, but it does not present a really true picture.

"Let us consider the old-style village home that is most common in the districts around Jerusalem and Bethlehem, for that will give us a better idea of what happened on that first Christmas day."

"The village streets are crooked, narrow, and unpaved. As in many of the countries of the Orient, farmers live close together for protection, and not on their lands; therefore in the villages there are no open fields or gardens, but house is next to house, except for the small walled inclosures or sheepfolds through which one generally passes in going into a dwelling.

"The house itself consists of one large room, usually square. The walls, from three to four feet thick, are built of blocks of stone roughly dressed and laid in mortar, roofed over with a dome, also of stone. The outside of this roof is covered with a coating of mortar made of clay, which, on being pressed with a small stone roller or pounded with a board, becomes hard and compact enough to shed the rain.

"Entering the door, we find that about two-thirds of the space is devoted to a raised masonry platform, room eight to ten feet above the ground and supported by low-domed arches. This raised space, called 'el-masaby,' is the part occupied by the family, while the lower part is used for the cattle and flocks. A few narrow stone steps lead up to the 'masaby,' and a couple of small windows pierce the wall, high up from the ground. These, as a rule, are the only means of admitting light and furnishing ventilation to the entire room.

"On one side is an open fireplace, with a chimney running through the wall, and terminating on the roof, often in an old water jar whose bottom has been knocked out, and sometimes a sort of smokestack. Many houses have no chimneys at all; small holes through the wall, or the windows, furnish the only exit for the smoke, which on winter days fairly fills the house.

"The furniture is very simple—a crudely decorated bridal chest, a straw mat, or heavy woven woolen rug, which covers part of the floor, and mattresses with thick quilts and

SPEEDERS AND MAGISTRATES.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

How many more innocent people must be slaughtered upon the streets of Oakland before our police judges and prosecuting attorney discard their "kid-glove methods" of dealing with the "speeder" problem, and realize that this menace to public safety is daily growing more deadly?

In the face of "dismissals" and "sentences" that are mere jokes to the culprit, his arrest by a police officer is just so much time wasted. Who will be the victim in case of the prosecuting attorney refusing to issue a complaint in the matter of an innocent woman ruthlessly done to death on an Oakland thoroughfare, and when we read (in the same case) of the Captain of Detectives declaring that "he is ready to prosecute, if the prosecuting attorney will give him assistance?"

When we further read (as in the Brougham case) of a police judge "dismissing" charges in the face of unanimous testimony of several witnesses against the man responsible for running down and seriously injuring three citizens, is it not about time for the public to "sit up and take notice?"

The "Speeder" is as dangerous to the community as any mad dog, and until this fact is realized and acted upon by our local authorities we may expect the appalling slaughter to continue and increase until the point is reached (which we are rapidly approaching) when it will not be possible for any pedestrian to cross an Oakland street without risking his or her life.

COUNCIL HAS Joust Over CITY WAGES

Declaring that he is losing the best employees in his department and is experiencing difficulty in getting competent help because of the low salaries paid, Commissioner Bacus this morning renewed his efforts to induce the city council to adopt the new schedule of salaries for his department recently recommended by the civil service board.

He created another controversy between the council members on the salary question and finally resulted in the question being laid over for action tomorrow. Commissioner Edwards, who originally led the opposition to the civil service board's recommendations for salary increases for municipal employees, voted against the postponement.

ORDINANCE OFFERED AGAIN.
In bringing up the question Bacus introduced again the ordinance which he presented to the council when the recommendations were first made, and which was turned down when the council majority opposed the move and criticised the civil service board for bringing in the suggestion for increases in the middle of the fiscal year.

The ordinance in question provided for increases from the minimum to the maximum salary for practically all engineers, draftsmen and instrument men in the employ of the street department, and was introduced suggested by the civil service board.

It was discovered when the question was brought up that the ordinance was not on the clerk's table, and could not be introduced.

"In introducing the measure Bacus filed with the council a statement setting forth the condition in his department.

"I think this should be referred to the efficiency expert," suggested Edwards.

ROLL CALL ASKED.
"The Civil Service Board has already reported on the increases," replied Bacus. "I'd like to have the roll call on the ordinance."

"Wait a moment," interrupted Commissioner Soderberg. "Just what are these increases?"

"I can't recite them in detail now," replied Bacus.

"You are ready to have this measure voted on and you don't know what it covers?" asked Soderberg.

"If the ordinances were where it should be, in the city clerk's office, I could tell you in detail," responded Bacus.

Edwards repeated his request to have the question referred to the efficiency expert, but Bacus insisted on a postponement of action until tomorrow.

The chamber has adopted a resolution authorizing European relief.

PROPOSED INCREASES.

The Housewives' League represents consumers only. They are organized that women may gain knowledge of the foodstuff situation in California and that the consumers be represented at the next session of the legislature. We are an independent body and we intend to keep that independence.

I regret that these facts must come out but certain of our organizations have seemed inclined to affiliate with the Sacramento body. There was nothing to do but tell what we knew to save the Housewives' League.

Mrs. Cleverdon charged at the meeting in Oakland Monday that the Consumers' League represented big interest and that it was financed by a well known San Francisco man.

According to the open letter sent out today by the Associated Dairymen, Mrs. Cleverdon is quoted as saying that the Consumers' League consisted of Mrs. C. D. Webster and John S. Glass, assistant to the president of the Alpine Evaporated Cream company, who was alleged to be financing it. Mrs. Cleverdon denies that she used Glass' name.

The question of affiliating with the Consumers' League is expected to precipitate a warm fight in the Berkeley Housewives' League tomorrow afternoon, when the matter is scheduled to be brought before the women for action. It is understood the consumers' organization has strong support in the college town, and that the opposition will be in the battle to the floor of the meeting.

Alameda Housewives' League this afternoon considered the advisability of keeping the identity of their organization intact.

Program for the state organization is directed toward bringing in close touch the housewives of the urban districts and the wives of producers for an understanding of their mutual problems.

OPPOSE DAIRYMEN.
There follows a partial report of the Monday meeting in the city hall attended by several scores of women when the local body adopted a resolution of refusal to affiliate with any other organization than housewives' leagues.

I am actively opposed to the Associated Dairymen of California, which has been instrumental in the ordinance which has been referred to the council when the recommendations were first made, and which was turned down when the council majority opposed the move and criticised the civil service board for bringing in the suggestion for increases in the middle of the fiscal year.

LEADERS IN BOND THEFT
PLOT HELD

PROFITEERS IN RUM FACE PUNISHMENT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—In the country-wide cleanup, with wholesale raids on offices of "bond brokers" in many cities, overnight developments at the treasury department today showed several million dollars' worth of war savings stamps and stolen Liberty bonds have been recovered and nearly 100 men and numerous women accomplices have been arrested.

Secret Service Chief John Moran, assisted by an army of sleuths, reviewing the result of the roundup today, felt convinced that the dragnet had caught the ringleaders in a gigantic scheme, with many ramifications, that would have served to defeat the treasury's drive to benefit dislodged investors.

Chief among the offenders are alleged "brokers" who have stoled us fences by treasury experts, through whom vast quantities of war saving stamps have been unloaded and through which channels large amounts of Liberty bonds, previously recorded as stolen, have been traced. The raids and seizures have occupied the attention of the treasury agents chiefly in such cities as New York, Chicago, Springfield, Ill., St. Louis, Baltimore, and Philadelphia.

JAPANESE MAY RETAIN POLICY

TOKYO (Tuesday), Jan. 27.—(By Associated Press)—Major General Tanaka, minister of war, in reply to an interpellation in the Japanese House of Parliament today by Baron Sakatani, former Minister of Finance and at present financial adviser to China, said he was unable to state that the Japanese expeditionary forces would be withdrawn from Siberia after the withdrawal of the Czechoslovaks.

Major General Tanaka and Vice-Admiral Kato, minister of the navy, both insisted that Japan's military program be left unchanged after peace, because it was intended for self defense and not for aggression. Viscount Uchida, the foreign minister, speaking with regard to the situation in Siberia, said that negotiations with the Czechoslovaks were proceeding in a most friendly manner. He pointed out that in some quarters the opinion had been expressed that the note of the American government concerning the dispatch of re-enforcements to Siberia was insulting to Japan. Such opinion, the foreign minister asserted, was entirely groundless.

Replying to an interpellation concerning China, Viscount Uchida said that Japan's policy aimed to promote friendship between the two countries by assisting in bringing about a compromise between the factions of Northern and Southern China, for which a mutual understanding by both peoples was necessary.

SONGS of Frank L. Stanton

A Dream of Far Fields

Ah! mai! The happy time there,
Where winds o'er viens
race!
The morning glories climb
there,
Sweet smiling
in the face.
And children know the roseway
That leads to her embrace.

There even the shadows bless you
With dreams, where stars shine bright:
The winds of heaven caress you
And bring the clouds from sight!
Let only love God bring
To kiss a sweet Good Night!
O, fragrant fields of clover,
O, valleys fair and free!
With gray doves flying over—
Do you remember me?
My ship is lost in shadows,
But the bells ring Home from sea!

THE RESTING PLACE

Just Folks

by Edgar A. Guest

THE RESTING PLACE

Oh, I have known the noisy town, and tramped its pavements up and down,
The winds of trade have stung my face and blown me here and there;
I've stood and talked with men who seek their golden idols week by week,
And trampled on the gentler things and never stopped to care.

Oh, I have played the dreary game of fighting for a bit of fame,
I've heard the cheering multitude and I have heard its jeers;
I know how tired those great men are, of leaving home and traveling far,
I know how much they miss the joys which come with humbler years.

I've thumbed and worn the book of life, I've learned the pages hot with strife,
I've played the lad, and played the youth, I've laughed and loved and wept;
I've turned from joys that I possessed to journeys East or journey West,
And in the end I've always wished that what I'd lost I'd kept.

The Lord above has shielded me from much that might have come to be,
Has let me wander far away and brought me safely back;
But wheresoever I've chance to roam my soul has always yearned for home,
The flowers I sought have never bloomed along a railroad track.

For neither fame nor yellow gold the fancy of a man can hold,
They lure him for a little while, but soon he must return
Unto the peace and calm and play abiding where his loved ones stay—
The glory of the world is found where happy candles burn.

Three Minute Journeys

By Temple Manning

THE RESTING PLACE

If it were advertised that a prize would be given to the person naming and describing the tree that to his or her mind best serves mankind there would be much contention the length and breadth of the earth, each person certain that his tree is the most useful. Without attempting to decide—for, offhand, the trees that supply us with rubber might win the prize—let us consider a tree which certainly would stand high in the estimation of all.

This is the "tebeldi." It is the "water tree" found in the Kordofan and Nuba mountain provinces of the Sudan, Africa, the tebeldi attains a height of fifty to fifty-five feet. Up to about half its height the trunk is enormous in girth. Above this point the limbs and branches begin and spread over a great area.

One of the remarkable things about this tree is that by nature the trunk hollows out, averaging about fifteen feet in diameter. Indeed, tebeldi, which have natural hollows eighteen feet in diameter have been observed—large enough to permit a motor car to run or a team of horses to draw a carriage through.

Some observing native in the long ago saw the possibilities of these trees as water containers in the waterless country. So now the natives scale the trees, cut a hole from the top into the natural hollows, enlarge the natural cavity until the walls are only a few inches thick, and a "water-catcher" is ready to catch and store the rain when it comes. From this reservoir the natives bale the water, pour it into the earth basin scooped at the foot of the tree and seal it over with mud or clay, where it keeps for three seasons or maybe for two years sweet and fine.

During one of the wars the British forces in the Sudan watered 800 camels, 60 horses and mules and 600 men solely from tebeldi trees during one entire campaign.

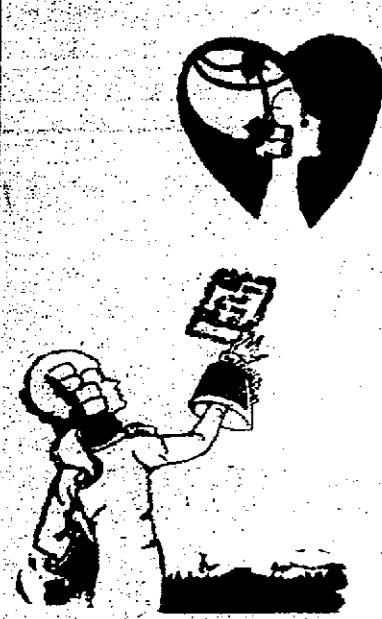

But this isn't all the tebeldi means to the natives. From its bark they make strong ropes which they use to rope camel loads and in building their houses. Furthermore, the tebeldi beans, pulp of bitter almond taste which are round and flat and are made into cakes eaten during a religious festival. In addition from the large shells of the nuts the natives make snuff boxes. Also the foliage of the tebeldi gives grateful shade from the burning sun—no small thing in the "blazing Sudan."

ASK THE TRIBUNE

A Department of Questions and Answers

Questions pertaining to the application of the law to specific cases, such as collection editor.

Editor. The TRIBUNE: Kindly give me some information about Samuel Posen, who was quite active in the fall of 1887 giving away lots in Tehama County. And were they legal?—F. L. L.

We presume you refer to "Sam'l O. Posen," by which name M. B. Curtis, actor, realty operator, hotel proprietor and bon vivant, was usually known. He derived the sobriquet from a rural play in which he made a considerable success through most of the country. He built as a hotel and pleasure resort the building which is now St. Joseph's Academy in Peralta Park, Berkeley, but the venture failed. Posen station in Berkeley was named for him. He was on trial for murder one time in San Francisco for the killing of Policeman Grant, but was not convicted. We have never heard of his Tehama county dealings called in question, but if you need accurate information on this point would suggest your corresponding with the district attorney of that county at Red Bluff.

"Surprise on Floppy!" Surprise on Curly!"

Well, you never saw any two littler piggie boys more surprised than those two were.

Then the fun began. All the animal boys and girls of Woodland, near the Orange Ice Mountains, had come to the surprise party, and so had most of their parents and mothers. Of course Uncle Wiggily and Nurse Jane wouldn't be left out, so they were there also, as you know.

Well, Curly and Floppy were playing games, such as "Piggy in the Pen" and "Drop the Acorn," and Uncle Wiggily was enjoying himself with the animal boys and girls, and having as much fun as any of them, when, all of a sudden, Mrs. Twysttail, the piggy lady, came to the door of the parlor and waved one foot, secret like, at the bunny. "That meant she wanted to speak to him without letting the others hear.

"What is it?" whispered Uncle Wiggily, when he had hopped out into the hall. "Is the chimney on fire? If it is don't let Aunt Lettie know about it, or she'll have the feds."

No, the chimney isn't on fire," said Mrs. Twysttail. "But I am in such trouble. The ice man didn't leave me enough ice to freeze the cream and the ice is melting, and the duck pond is frozen over, it is too late to send there now."

Then you want some chunks of ice to put in the freezer to freeze some ice cream for Curly's and Floppy's surprise party, do you?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"That is it," said the piggy lady.

"And I don't know where to get a bit of ice at this time of night. The cream will melt unless it is frozen, and it isn't cold enough to freeze without ice. Perhaps you know where I can get some."

"I do," said Uncle Wiggily. "As Nurse Jane and I came along to the party this evening I noticed hanging down from the roof of your pen, a lot of big frozen icicles. I can break them off and chop them up, and they'll do as nicely to freeze the cream, as any ice the ice cream could bring."

Oh, the buny uncle went out to break them off the eaves of the pen, and while he was doing it along came a bad old fox, who wanted to come in to the party, and maybe bite some off the ears of Nurse Jane or Aunt Lettie, for all I know.

But Uncle Wiggily just picked off a long sharp icicle, and cried:

"Now you run away from here, Mr. Fox, or I'll tickle you with this in your short ribs!" And the fox never said a word, but ran away.

Then the buny chopped up the icicles for the ice cream, and it was frozen as hard as a brick, and as sweet as maple sugar.

Editor. The TRIBUNE: Kindly give me some information about Samuel Posen, who was quite active in the fall of 1887 giving away lots in Tehama County. And were they legal?—F. L. L.

We presume you refer to "Sam'l O. Posen," by which name M. B. Curtis, actor, realty operator, hotel proprietor and bon vivant, was usually known. He derived the sobriquet from a rural play in which he made a considerable success through most of the country. He built as a hotel and pleasure resort the building which is now St. Joseph's Academy in Peralta Park, Berkeley, but the venture failed. Posen station in Berkeley was named for him. He was on trial for murder one time in San Francisco for the killing of Policeman Grant, but was not convicted. We have never heard of his Tehama county dealings called in question, but if you need accurate information on this point would suggest your corresponding with the district attorney of that county at Red Bluff.

NORTHWESTERN CHAMPIONS WILL BOX HERE THIS EVENING

CALIFORNIA BASKETBALLERS COME TO LIFE AND HAND DEFEAT TO THE SANTA CLARA FIVE

Joe Gorman to Box Jack Davis; Mascot vs. Moy

Battling Ortega and George Shade Top Off Great List of Scraps.

By BOB SHAND
The little four-rounders will entertain at the auditorium again this evening after a vacation of two weeks and the cash customers should see some lively tussles. The preliminaries, special events and main events were gyped out of their weekly medals last week when the auto show was staged in the big municipal building, but the kids gave the big gas wagons the once over and will hook Tommy Simpson for the price before the rear is out. Simpson almost had nervous prostration when he heard that his little scappers were lamping the motor buses. "I'm a cinch to be the goat if they get the buying bug notion in their heads, so here's hoping they pass up the Cadillac and take long squints at the flivvers," chirped the promoter one day last week.

Joe Gorman Used to Be "Kid Nabisco"

Tonight's program will introduce a pair of Northwestern champions, Billy Mascot and Joe Gorman, mascot has a date with Charlie Moy, while Gorman hooks up with Jack Davis. Gorman used to fight at the old Wheelmen Club under the name of Kid Nabisco, a cognomen which he earned by his skill but wished him by Jimmie Moy, who twice prevailed upon him to stay out of the service, once as an army aviator and again in the air branch of the navy.

Dempsey says he can offer proof to substantiate this statement.

DENIES WIFE'S STATEMENT.

"My former wife is asserting that she has letters in her own handwriting which prove that I am a draft dodger. She offered to sell those letters through a representative for $40,000. I refused. Now she is declaring that in her good time she will reveal the contents of the letters," says Dempsey. "I cannot recall that in any letter which I sent my wife that I made any such statement as she charges against me."

"At one time I decided I wanted to be an army aviator," says Dempsey. "I told my wife about it. She pleaded and begged me not to do it. She pointed out that I was exempt from military service by law and that I was her support. She told me that if I went away from her she never could prove that she was going to be a good girl in the future. So I changed my mind."

BEGGED HIM NOT TO GO.

"Some time after, during another of her disappearances, I determined to join the airplane squad of the navy. To do this it was necessary for me to have a release paper. I gave them to her and she signed them before a notary public in Salt Lake, saying she had no objection to my going in the navy. But hardly had she done this when she came to me and with tears in her eyes, begged and pleaded with me not to go. So once more I changed my mind."

Charlie Moy Claims Coast Championship

Moy is drawing a hard kid to beat 10 times from Los Angeles town yesterday from Los Angeles where he is been working with boxer George Shand, Fairbanks and other movie kings and is plumb full of the old ambition.

Frank Tabor called up to tell the world that the bantamweight champion of the entire Pacific Southwest was in our city. And when say this I mean it. Charlie licked all including Bud Ridley, and the 16 willing to start all over again and clean up the ring. He was rocked to sleep by George Adams down south, but he came back and threw an armful of boxing gloves at the ring. Charlie's gloves have been whipped into featherweights and swelterweights, but Adams is the boy approaching the heavier only that was defeated Moy. Moy is been claiming the Coast title but he took in too much territory. He won't have the championship at all to be of it. Charlie went through with him tonight.

George Shade Has Chance With Ortega

These two bouts would be main events up north, but they have to run second and third to the Battling Ortega-George Shade bout, the entertainment of the night.

Local fans like the big fellows, if they can't get a pair of hearts they will take a pair of feathers and lightweights and swelterweights, but Adams is the boy approaching the heavier only that was defeated Moy. Moy is been claiming the Coast title but he took in too much territory. He won't have the championship at all to be of it. Charlie went through with him tonight.

FANS OF LEMOORE OFFER BOHNE A RANCH

William Harrison Dempsey and Mrs. Maxine Dempsey are going to settle their differences with a representative of Uncle Sam as third man in the ring. The federal government took official cognizance of the case yesterday when United States District Attorney Frank Adams received the report of Lt. M. McDonald, Miss Adams' referee, that case to be referred to the Justice Department with orders to make a thorough investigation of Mrs. Dempsey's charges of slackism against her former husband.

The former Mrs. Dempsey was reported in Ogden last night where she asked for police protection claiming that men were following her in an effort to get the alleged incriminating letters. Late last night she left the hotel accompanied by a mysterious man and the two women who were with her professed ignorance of her destination.

HIS HONOR JUDGE — CLIFF DURANT.

The 800 tickets printed for the Charlie Koller benefit ball game at Lincoln Park next Sunday did not last long. The "busboys" got immediate action and last night started the printers to say on another order of 1000. The Crystal Laundry girls went to the box office and purchased $25 worth of tickets. J. R. Alvarez of the laundry was too late to get in on the first purchase. The box office was $15 worth for Charlie and Bob Berwin also shared a few.

Preparations for the big game have been completed and the referee is expected. Speed Martin will positively pitch at least three innings for the All-Stars and Bobby Jones, the third-sacker, Carl Epling, Oakland star, will share the pitching honors with Martin.

The All-Stars will be opposed by the Hells Angels and Mammoth Darts promised to have a strong team on the field.

Then there will be a race around the bases followed by the fleamarket, the T. T. T. League, and several other stunts.

Basketball

Tonight six basketball teams will proceed with their schedule in the N.W.C. basketball league on the local front. At 8 p.m. the Winter will be in two games, one in the 120-pound class between the Trojans and the Spartan Club. The teams are evenly matched and there should be a close contest.

Then there will be a race around the bases followed by the fleamarket, the T. T. T. League, and several other stunts.

Rangers Protest the Victory of U. I. W.

The Rangers soccer club has protested the victory of the Union Iron Works in the cup tie game played at San Francisco and the upper will be played at the same place on Saturday night.

Encroachment on the field by spectators is the ground for the protest. Following a corner kick the ball went into the goal line and the ball back into play, which it would have gone over the goal line.

The Rangers claim Referee Neil McFarland should have awarded them a goal kick instead of a corner kick.

In the scrum that followed the throw-in in front of the Rangers' goal the men were awarded a penalty kick which was converted.

Boy McCormick is Winner Over Roper

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 29.—Boy McCormick, light heavyweight of England, won the decision over Captain Bob Roper, army champion, at the Milwaukee Arena last night.

The ten-round battle was all McCormick's work, and the Englishman carried him through to the final round.

Lucky Morris of Tacoma, Wash., and Harry Pelsinger of San Francisco, Earl Baird of Seattle, and Mike Pete of Seattle drew the feature of the game.

Another Umpire is Signed by McCarthy

Olie Anderson joined the hero class last night when he accepted term to umpire in the Pacific Coast League.

Gentlemen—After studying the qualifications of all the players, I find that the following are the best:

First base: Coddington; shortstop: Croft; third base: Mitchell; right field: Nelson; center field: Neff; left field: Schmitt; pitcher: O'Neill; catcher: Duroleto; umpire: McCarthy.

I am going to game every Sunday and think they follow the best men to play. Mr. E. Jasper, 380 Hass ave.

PICKING ALL-STAR TEAM

San Leandro, Jan. 21, 1920.

Mr. Tribune Sporty Man—I am told it to you the man for poly ball in team from Tribune league gets to be good ones to beat the game for champions S. & S. I. and we're a few you don't know what is play over here. I am read every day your paper so please put my men down tomorrow:

Battery—Alameda and California; Duroleto and McCull.

First base: Hermit; second base: Croul; third base: Mitchell; shortstop: Boyd; leftfield: Silva; right field: Nelson; center field: Neff; pitcher: O'Neill; catcher: Duroleto; umpire: McCarthy.

There will be no more ten-round bouts at the Presidio. This order was issued last night by Brigadier General L. L. Blatchford, commanding officer at the Presidio. There was no objection to the men who were held by the general did not care to have his men violate a state law. It is planned to stage four-round contests, but the new rounds were successful financially and enough money was raised to remodel the Oregon building, where the boxing contests were held.

CLYDE WALES IS BUSINESS MAN OF HANFORD, CALIF.

Seattle Manager Returns From Training Camp a Full Fledged Poolroom Owner.

Clyde Wales went down to Hanford the other day to arrange for the training of his Seattle ball club and the little manager returned yesterday the proud possessor of an all-new pool room and cigar store. "They made such a proposition but the chances are that he will be back with the Oaks. Wale was one of the highest salaried fighters in the league last season, receiving something like $450 per month, and it is not likely that he would pass up this kind of money to become a farm手. There is no anxiety at baseball headquarters here.

Wales Boosts Hanford

"Greatest little town in the world. Everybody has plenty of money and nearly everybody owns one or two automobiles. They get room and board well at the last show, will meet me in Ketchell in a return match. That first pair will be turned loose at 8:30.

Tonight's Card at Auditorium

Pinky Crosby, the hard-hitting ladie from Goat Island, will tackle our own Frankie Ketchell. They say the Crosby boy is a wild man since the ring, but he will have to drap the chandelier in order to find out what it is all about. Jimmy says he has favorite dish, which has it all figured out that it is a physical impossibility for any fighter to be wilder than Crosby.

Frankie Ketchell, the pride of Elmwood, will make his reappearance in the ring after a long absence. Frankie's bouts Battling Burley and was never scared of stamping on the floor.

Jimmy Marshall, the Sacramento lightweight, who put up many a good fight here, is back from the ring. He is still the best fighter in the ring.

Jimmy did very well around Vernon, his most notable feat being a knockout of Johnny Nunes, which was a surprise in store for Mr. Barry.

TRANSPORT
MT. VERNON
RETURNINGBecker's Father Keeps
Promise to Rejail Son

It was a promise made by P. A. Becker, head of Loyds Insurance Agency of North and South America, to his wife, Willa of Los Angeles, that he would report any violations of his son's probation that landed E. Rand Becker, college man and aviator, in jail in the southern city. The Beckers live at 304 Pala street, Piedmont.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—The transport Mount Vernon, which is returning to San Francisco in a leaking condition after having put out from here on January 23 on a secret mission, is in no danger and is proceeding without assistance, according to a radio message received by Major General Carroll A. Devol, chief of the army transport service, from Captain C. J. Bruguere, master of the ship, today.

The message said the Mount Vernon was about 450 miles off San Francisco and was proceeding through a heavy rain, but that she was in no danger and that all was well on board. She should arrive here tomorrow morning, the message said.

AT FATHER'S REQUEST.

Becker was arrested on request of his father who had instructed Becker to take him into custody for violating his parole. He is said to have left a trail of worthless checks from San Francisco to Los Angeles in the evident belief that his father would make them good.

With him at the time of his arrest was a young woman who he said he was planning to marry within a few hours, and it is for her he has given the greatest concern.

"I was scared to death at first sight," he said. "I didn't believe in that idea until I met her. I expected to tell her before I married her that I had been in trouble about this matter of passing checks." But she was so good and so sweet I just kept putting it off. She brought me my senses, though, and I am changing my habits for a good thing. I didn't marry her because it has broken her up enough as it is."

CHECKS DISHONORED.

Becker was first arrested October 15, 1919, when his father refused to honor two checks he had given to a haberdasher for expensive clothes. When he pleaded guilty and came up for probation, Judge William C. Hough sentenced him to three and a half years in the county jail and suspended sentence as long as he remained under the watchful eye of his father and obeyed all orders his father gave him. The father promised to report the son if he violated any of the terms of probation. It was more than a week ago that the senior Becker directed the agency to pick up the boy and personally bring him to Los Angeles to inform the court of his action.

The court released the son. In the county jail at Los Angeles young Becker, 23 years old, propped his feet on a table and told his story. "After I spent all my money," he said, "I needed more. When I went to a party I wasn't satisfied with drinking one night—it would be three or four. Then we switched to chasers. That was the easiest way to come home and the I would come to think of it as the easiest way to get the money from my father. Every once in a while he would say that he was not going to make another check good for me—that he had made good my checks for the last time. I didn't believe him and passed others and he made them good. So I kept on passing them. Finally he cut me off. I was arrested for giving checks to a haberdasher when the judge put me on probation. The funny thing is that even after I was put on probation the people to whom I had given worthless checks before would take them again."

Bruguere is master of the Mount Vernon.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The war department announced today that the transport Mount Vernon is returning to San Francisco after sailing for Vladivostok to bring Czechoslovak troops out of Siberia because of the poor functioning of the military engines.

Would Give His Wife
to Her Old Spouse

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—A bit of the friend of long ago brought the attention of Judge Morgan yesterday when Wesley C. Young asked for a divorce from Mrs. Clara J. Young, who he said had told him that she loved her first husband, Leo V. Carrell, and wanted to return to him. "I do not want to stand in the way of her happiness," Young said.

Young was an overseas veteran. He and his mother, Mrs. Mrs. Carrell, the marriage occurring on December 2. On January 16, Mrs. Young left their home. A note told Young that she had married him while angry at her former husband and did not think what she was doing.

According to testimony, Mrs. Young had been married three times before she married her third husband. "I think she is wasting lots of sympathy upon a woman who does not deserve it," Judge Morgan told Young.

Survey by Women Discloses Broad Activities for Girls

Mrs. T. Brookman, founder of Friendship House in San Francisco, was the principal speaker at the afternoon session of the Big Sister delegates from more than forty women's organizations assembled at luncheon at Hotel Harriet in the cause of the Big Sisters of the Public Welfare League. Mrs. Helen Swett Attwells presided as chairman.

With plans afoot for the opening of a boarding home for strange young women who come by rail to West Oakland, under the direction of the W. C. T. U. co-operating with the Travelers' Aid Society, with a program directed toward instituting a settlement house by the Daughters of Israel, with Mother Anna Ryan, municipal social worker, ministering to the health of more than 400 young women suffering from some disease, with material assistance being given to the California Girls' Training Home in Alameda; with the Methodist Church maintaining a home for weary women, and the Salvation Army at Beulah providing a haven for the little unmarried mothers, reports showed how generally girls were being protected.

Colored women have sent a young woman to Tuskegee College where they are supporting her. They are preparing children for a 13-year-old mother and her infant and taking care of a family consisting of a widow and two daughters. outfitting girls to keep them in school, providing classes in cooking and sewing for foreign born young women; maintaining day nurseries, financing girls in straitened circumstances are among a few of the activities which are being carried on according to announcement of delegations.

Mr. Ryan reported that last year under her supervision were 410 girls receiving clinical attention, twenty-two of whom were between the ages of 4 and 17 years. Of this number thirty have been persuaded to return to their homes and eight wives have been reconciled to their husbands. The last forty-five days has recorded seven births. One hundred and eighty-four girls remain under the supervision of Mrs. Ryan.

Officials Ready for Fight on Influenza

Preliminary plans for taking care of any health situation which might be occasioned by a recurrence of an influenza epidemic were made at a conference in San Francisco attended by representatives of the State Board of Health and the State Embalming Board, Oakland, and San Francisco Boards of Health, yesterday.

Resolutions were framed relating to the care of the body of the dead, based upon a survey of eastern states made by Mrs. Bessie Wood, Gestson, secretary of the state board of embalming. The resolutions will be forwarded to every board of health within California. Public funerals will be discouraged. A period of forty-eight hours after death will be permitted to family funerals. A method of embalming has been devised which will complete immunity.

The conference decided that no great number of deaths from influenza were anticipated, but precautions were being taken to meet any situation which might occur.

POLICE PLAN PROTECTION OF WORKERS U. S. SEIZES COMMUNIST LITERATURE

Eight police squads in automobiles will patrol the vicinity near the shipyards and the thoroughfares used by the workers as they come home from work, and at the outbreak of lawlessness in the event of the organized thugs who have been attacking and intimidating workers, will be dealt with in a summary manner.

This was the announcement of Chief of Police J. F. Lynch today. The chief declared that any further association with the ruffians was out of the question and that henceforth it would go hard with all of them who were caught molesting peaceful citizens on their way to or from work.

Since the patrols have been increased in the neighborhood of the shipyard gates, it is said by the police that a new method has been adopted by the gangs bent on intimidation of the workers.

The names and addresses of secretaries obtained include: Edward Blomquist, 3342 Eighteenth street; Steponas A. Wirmanskas, 4126 Twenty-fourth street; Max Bedacht, 312 Washington avenue; Oscar J. Sauer, 1110 Rhode Island street; Kichard Marquart, 827 Mason; Theophilus Kuslin, 20 Flint.

No arrests were made, the purpose of the raids being to obtain evidence upon which future deportation proceedings may be based.

Under the opinion Campbell is empowered to proceed with the opening of the street, which is planned as a portion of the extensive project of street openings and extensions on which Commissioner W. J. Baccus is working as part of the program of street openings and improvements for the coming year.

According to Hagan the opening of the street was started by the police in 1892 and partially completed and traveled over ever since.

Lift Limit Off Ferry Loads, Board Urged

Efforts to change the new freight ruling limiting the measurements of loads on vehicles being ferried across the bay are being made by theater men of Oakland and San Francisco, who say that it means delay and additional cost in their business. The theater men, unless the ruling is changed, will have to pay extra around by San Jose, and a trip that usually takes but a short time will require a whole day. The officials of the theater men's association and the theater manager will take the matter up with the railroad administration.

Commissioner Frederick Soderberg is ill, but is continuing his duties because of the necessity for completing the investigation of condition at the municipal auditorium.

Four Charged With Snoring Arraigned

Four speeders appeared in police court this morning. Owing to the activities of the special speed squads detailed to check the reckless speed in the Oakland streets, there will be several days a marked decrease in the number of speeders arrested. Those whose cases appeared in court this morning were: Tom Hogan, who was fined $10; William Long, who forfeited bail; Frank Fallow, whose case was dismissed; and L. C. Ham, who was fined $5.

Chinese in Lottery Case Pays $20 Fine

Tom Chin, who was arrested several weeks ago on a charge of selling lottery tickets, was given the alternative of paying $20 fine or spending ten days in the city prison.

The charge was changed from selling lottery tickets to having lottery tickets in his possession. He chose to pay the $20 fine.

New Club Is to Preserve Beauty of Eastbay Hills

Harold French, chairman, and James H. L'Hommedieu, J. W. Beck, C. H. Baker, Juanita Miller, Mrs. E. Nisbet and Russell Archard.

All persons interested in the new organization are asked to attend the meeting Sunday. Among the objects of the club as set forth in the committee report are:

To awaken a widespread appreciation of the rare beauty of the hills back of the East Bay cities, will be effected at a meeting of those who have interest with representatives of civic organizations of the East Bay cities.

To urge the people of Oakland, Berkeley and Piedmont to take steps to protect the open lands from fire and vandalism.

To investigate projects looking toward the parking of the Contra Costa hills.

To help improve trails, place signs of direction, plant wild flowers and shrubs.

They were arrested in Fresno by the police, thefts and burglaries amounting to hundreds of dollars and have uncovered what the police call "a nest of feds" for the receiving of stolen property.

The boys are Max Bachman, 15 years old, 1114 Eighth street; George Sweeny, 14 years old, 1026 Seventh street; Ritchie Savelli, 724 Chestnut street, and Lawrence Sweeney, 16 years old, 1120 Eighth street.

They were arrested in Fresno today and with the exception of Sweeney, who is the leader of the gang, were soon back to Oakland, where they are now in jail. An officer will bring Sweeney back today.

The Fresno police say that when the boys were picked up they had with them jewelry, watches, and money to a value of several hundred dollars and that Sweeney admitted that he would stagger an older man in crime.

Sweeney, the police say, has confessed to stealing a purse from a woman at Twelfth and Adeline streets and he has found in it $500 in cash and between $600 and $1,000 in jewelry.

Brown is said to have confessed breaking into a candy store and other thefts of a like nature.

The police believe that there is in Oakland a "fence" where the boy thieves dispose of the jewelry they steal and will seek through evidence of these boys, to uncover it.
